

Porto 2026 is taking shape: Major sponsors confirm for European Tape Week

Why exhibit at ETW 2026? H.B. Fuller and Valco Melton confirm Platinum sponsorship, with Synthomer, Elite Cameron and Ichemco joining as Gold.

Momentum around Afera European Tape Week 2026 is growing fast, and we are delighted to share strong support from the industry's sponsor community.

We are pleased to confirm H.B. Fuller and Valco Melton as Platinum Sponsors. In addition, Synthomer, TS Converting Equipment Ltd. | Elite Cameron and Ichemco have joined as Gold Sponsors, reinforcing the importance of the event as a meeting point for the European adhesive tape value chain.

Taking place 21–25 September 2026 in Porto, Portugal, European Tape Week 2026 will bring together the 12th Afera Tape College, the 69th Afera Annual Conference, Afera Committee Meetings and a central Tabletop Exhibition, designed as the main sponsor engagement hub throughout the week.

The Tabletop Exhibition is included in both the Gold and Platinum sponsorship packages, but it can also be booked as a standalone option, making it accessible for companies looking to participate in a focused and flexible way.

Why sponsor European Tape Week?

Sponsors benefit from a range of advantages designed to maximise industry engagement and visibility:

- Five days of visibility before, during and after the event
- Direct interaction with senior technical experts and decision-makers
- Strong brand positioning across Afera communications, website and social channels
- Flexible options: Platinum, Gold or standalone building blocks.

An exhibition designed around interaction

Running from Wednesday, 23 September through lunchtime on Friday, 25 September 2026, the Tabletop Exhibition is positioned as the central networking hub of European Tape Week.

Lunches and key networking moments will take place within the exhibition area, ensuring continuous footfall and sustained interaction with participants from across the programme. This format enables exhibitors to connect not only with Conference delegates, but with Tape College participants and Afera Committee Members circulating through the space during the core programme days.

Importantly, Booth Passes grant access exclusively to the Tabletop Exhibition area, ensuring a focused environment for technical and commercial discussions without overlap with closed Committee Meetings or core conference sessions.

Reaching the right audience

European Tape Week 2026 is expected to bring together 200+ senior decision-makers, technical experts and industry leaders from across the global adhesive tape value chain.

For suppliers — including raw material providers, machinery and equipment manufacturers, coating and converting specialists and solution providers — the Tabletop Exhibition offers direct access to a highly targeted audience already engaged in the topics shaping the industry's future.

In addition to on-site engagement, exhibitor participation is supported by Afera's wider communications reach, including Afera Insights, afera.com and the Association's LinkedIn channel, all reaching approximately 3,000 industry professionals.

A flexible route into European Tape Week sponsorship

Participation in the Tabletop Exhibition is available as a standalone option or as part of a broader sponsorship package.

Gold and Platinum Sponsorships include a Tabletop Exhibition space as part of their core benefits. A Tabletop-only package is also available to suppliers seeking focused engagement during the exhibition days.

This flexible structure allows companies to tailor their presence according to their objectives — whether strengthening visibility, supporting customer dialogue or positioning solutions in relation to current technical and regulatory developments.
